Low-price properties - even with a seaside view

In the Sønderborg Municipality, you can decide for yourself whether you want buzzing city life or are searching for village idyll. It is significantly cheaper to buy a residential property here than elsewhere in the country, and with 250 kilometres of curved coastline and magnificent nature you are guaranteed to find a home that is entirely to your taste.

Sønderborg is the main town, while Augustenborg, Gråsten and Nordborg are smaller central towns. Furthermore, there are many small villages – most of them have a well-organised, active village community, where a great deal of importance is still attached to mutual support by neighbours.
